

Luke Travis

Program Manager, Cyber & Telecoms Portfolio
Washington, D.C.

---

Luke Travis is a Program Manager in the Cyber & Telecommunications Portfolio at the Defense Innovation Unit (DIU). He also serves as DIU's onsite embed and liaison to USCYBERCOM, working to curate and solicit innovative solutions to the Command's hardest problems.

Before joining DIU, Luke served in the United States Air Force as a Cyber Effects Officer. He led the team that responded to one of the largest intrusions ever detected into an Air Force enterprise information technology system. Luke also planned multiple real-world and exercise offensive cyber operations while assigned to 7th Air Force in the Republic of Korea. His last active duty assignment was with USCYBERCOM J38 as the Chief of Plans in the Joint Fires Element.

Luke also currently serves as a Cyber Effects Officer in the Air National Guard. In 2023, he mobilized to Joint Task Force 2 of the Cyber National Mission Force as the Joint Task Force's Chief of Staff.

Luke holds a Master of Science in Digital Forensics from the University of Central Florida, a Bachelor of Science in Systems Engineering from the United States Air Force Academy, and is a graduate of and former instructor at the United States Air Force Weapons School.
