

Lili Davoudian is a Director in the National Security Group at Microsoft, where she leads the team dedicated to demonstrating the value of Microsoft's security solutions to clients in the US Department of Defense and Intelligence Community. She has been with Microsoft for eight years, previously serving in the Cybersecurity Product Group, where she played a key role in launching major features across the Microsoft security platform.

Beyond Microsoft, Lili is a founding partner of the Spades Institute, a nonprofit focused on advancing national security. She serves on the Board of Directors for Bank Fund Credit Union and Eagle Online Academy, as well as the Advisory Board for Trust in Media Collective and San Jose State University. Lili holds a Bachelor of Science in Foreign Service from Georgetown University and lives in New York City.