

Justin Wilder

Justin Wilder is a Partner at IQT, the independent, non-profit, strategic investor created to bridge the gap between emerging commercial innovation and the technology needs of the U.S. Government and its allies. In this role, Mr. Wilder is a strategic investor engaging early-stage venture-backed startups across the United States developing technologies that provide ready-soon innovation vital to IQT Partners.

In his previous role as Managing Director, Mr. Wilder established IQT's strategic investment presence in Southeast Asia, leading investments across a range of critical technology domains such as Quantum, Advanced Materials, Photonics and AI.

Prior to leading IQT's expansion in Asia, Mr. Wilder served as the Senior Vice President and Technical Lead of IQT's Cyber Practice responsible for establishing the strategic investment direction guiding a diverse team of technical and investment professionals identifying early-stage development opportunities across a rich ecosystem of cyber technology startups. During his tenure, the Practice investment portfolio has grown to over 80 companies, adding 10-15 per year making IQT one of the most active early-stage cyber investors globally.
